Forest Gateway Chuo

At the entrance to the nature-rich Tama Campus, Forest Gateway Chuo has been established as the new face of Chuo University. This unique space will allow various kinds of "wisdom" to be gathered and shared with society, and provide a fresh venue for social interaction, where students can interact with each other, as well as with businesses and other members of society. The building is designed to enhance visibility, diversity and openness. As part of Chuo's commitment to the SDGs, wood was widely used to create warm and welcoming spaces, and the structure consumes less than 50% of the energy of standard buildings. In addition, consideration is given to the natural environment to help reduce carbon dioxide. Recently, due to COVID-19, Chuo University is providing various opportunities for students to learn through a combination of face-to-face and online classes. In addition to the specialized facilities of each Faculty, Chuo University aims to greatly expand its state-of-the-art learning in today's constantly changing environment, utilizing the Forest Gateway Chuo which is fitted for and compatible with digital transformation (DX) strategies.

Global Gateway Chuo

At Chuo University our mission is to nurture individuals who can contribute to the welfare of humankind with a global perspective and the ability to apply knowledge to practice. In order to provide an environment to develop such individuals with global talent, Chuo University opened the Global Gateway Chuo on the Tama Campus in April 2020. Global Gateway Chuo was established to facilitate global education and the research activities of the entire University. It is also expected to play a role as a social interaction venue for international and domestic students. In the main entrance adjacent to the monorail station, there is a wall illustration that exhibits the history of Chuo University and its founders, and a Global Lounge equipped with a large screen display. The classrooms will be used mainly for International Center events and for Faculty of Global Management classes. A multipurpose hall on the top floor overlooking the campus is equipped to host international conferences, lectures, and various events. In addition, the International Residence Chuo (IRC) next door contains 300 student rooms and two apartments for long-term researchers. The IRC offers residents a diverse range of spaces allowing international students and researchers to interact with Japanese students on a daily basis. All residents enjoy a safe and comfortable environment in which they can prepare food, socialize and sleep.
